

Section 3.3(i) St. Peter's College Revocation Process

It is important to state that this document presents a purely hypothetical process, required by Advanced Education in fulfillment of the Application for the Designation Framework associated with Citizenship and Immigration Canada's International Student Program. Barring any exceptional circumstance, there is no intention for St. Peter's College to request revocation of its designated status to receive international students; nor can we conceive of a situation where we would not comply, or that the government would cause hardship for students by revoking St. Peter's College's designated status mid-year.

In the case where St. Peter's College may wish to revoke its designation voluntarily, the following steps would be taken:

1. Senior college leadership would need to develop a proposal for the revocation of designation to the appropriate governing bodies, which include student representation.
 - a. Such a proposal would be required due to the potential impacts, from enrolment and international student mobility partnerships to international research and global post-secondary rankings.
 - b. This proposal would likely take at least one year to be passed through all proper governance bodies.
2. If the governing bodies determine that St. Peter's College should revoke its designation status, the International Student Advisor, as per the Saskatchewan Designation Framework, would contact Advanced Education to initiate the revocation process.
 - a. Timing of the revocation would be proposed such that international students would have a sufficient period to find alternative pathways for their academic study.
 - b. For example, revocation would be proposed for the following year's final term of the academic cycle.
3. During the period leading up to the decision regarding revocation:
 - a. The International Student Advisor would work with communications and advising staff on a communications and student support plan if the proposed revocation is passed by the governing bodies.
 - b. The International Student Advisor would also then contact other designated post-secondary institutions in Saskatchewan and across Canada to find potential options for students to transfer their academic study.
4. Where the decision is to revoke designation, the International Student Advisor would:

- a. Communicate to all students regarding the college's decision:
 - i. The International Student Advisors would also be responsible to ensure all staff involved with advising international students are equipped with the knowledge and resources necessary to provide international students with accurate, effective guidance to continue their studies in compliance with the ISP.
- b. Communicate to College leadership and to the University of Saskatchewan leadership
- c. Communicate to all faculty, staff regarding the college's decision:
 - i. Faculty and staff will be provided with guidelines by the International Student Advisor on how to support and guide international students who will need support in transferring to other institutions, including all aspects mentioned in the Designation Framework, Section 3.3i.

In the case where St. Peter's College might involuntarily have its designation to receive international students revoked, the International Student Advisor would:

- a. Communicate the government's decision to all students.
 - i. The International Student Advisor would also be responsible to ensure all staff involved with advising international students are equipped with the knowledge and resources necessary to provide international students with accurate, effective guidance to continue their studies in compliance with the ISP.
- b. Communicate to College leadership and to the University of Saskatchewan leadership
- c. Communicate to all faculty, staff regarding the college's decision:
 - i. Faculty and staff will be provided with guidelines by the International Student Advisors on how to support and guide international students who will need support in transferring to other institutions, including all aspects mentioned in the Designation Framework, Section 3.3i.
 - ii. As all of St. Peter's College's students are University of Saskatchewan students enrolled in University of Saskatchewan courses, courses and credits will be accepted at the University of Saskatchewan.
